PORNPHON RAKSAKIT

Nice to meet you guys! My name is Pornphon Raksakit. I’m a professional UX UI Designer, Web Designer and Front-End developer from Krabi. I currently live in Nonthaburi. I started as a graphic designer and then worked on web design. I ’m a Front-End developer.

I am a Senior UX UI designer with over 10 years of experience in designing and building responsive websites and mobile apps. I am proficient in CSS and JS frameworks. I have extensive knowledge of UX and user psychology. Some of my notable achievements include increasing the conversion rate of existing websites by 80% with improved code and design.

When viewed through a lens, the world looks different, and I want to show you the difference. I learned this when I was 10 years old, when I first learned to draw and design. After years of practice and a lot of experience, I have learned techniques that have helped me work in modern companies and adapt to working with colleagues. I am particularly interested in technology for self-development. And all of this can be yours, just contact me.
